1960s and later : The decades following the decline of the studio system in the 1960s saw changes in the production and style of film. Various New Wave movements including the French New Wave, Indian New Wave, Japanese New Wave, and New Hollywood and the rise of film-school-educated independent filmmakers contributed to the changes the medium experienced in the latter half of the 20th century. Digital technology has been the driving force for change throughout the 1990s and into the 2000s. Digital 3D projection largely replaced earlier problem-prone 3D film systems and has become popular in the early 2010s.citation needed

Terminology : The terminology used for describing motion pictures varies considerably between British and American English. In British usage, the name of the medium is film. The word movie is understood but seldom used.<sup>78</sup> Additionally, the pictures plural is used semi-frequently to refer to the place where movies are exhibited, while in American English this may be called the movies, but it is becoming outdated. In other countries, the place where movies are exhibited may be called a cinema or movie theatre. By contrast, in the United States, movie is the predominant form. Although the words film and movie are sometimes used interchangeably, film is more often used when considering artistic, theoretical, or technical aspects. The term movies more often refers to entertainment or commercial aspects, as where to go for fun evening on a date. For example, a book titled How to Understand a Film would probably be about the aesthetics or theory of film, while a book entitled Lets Go to the movies would probably be about the history of entertaining movies and blockbusters.

On May 3, 2021, the governors of Connecticut, New Jersey, and New York jointly announced that they planned to lift most capacity restrictions on businesses on May 19 for cinemas in New York, they would not be limited in how many patrons may be present, but there must be 6 feet 1.8 m social distancing between groups.<sup>209210</sup> On May 4, Los Angeles County was moved to yellow Minimal tier by state health officials,<sup>211</sup> but the LACDPH did not allow cinemas to use the 75% option.<sup>212</sup> Due to progress on vaccination, New York and California lifted capacity restrictions, including those on cinemas, in June 2021.<sup>213</sup><sup>214</sup> By August 2021, however, due to spread of Delta variant and waning vaccination rates nationwide, New York City where only 55% of residents were fully-vaccinated announced on August 3 that effective September 13, access to indoor entertainment venues including cinemas will be restricted to those who are vaccinated.<sup>215</sup><sup>216</sup> In October 2021, Los Angeles announced that starting November 4 residents will be required to show proof of a COVID-19 vaccination to enter movie theaters.<sup>217</sup>
